

When you purchase this plant, it may not be apparent that it is a vine. The characteristics may take a while to develop. Its most attractive factor is its arrowhead-shaped leaves that may range in color from silver to green to pink and any or all of those colors mixed together. It is an easy plant to grow.

The arrow-shaped foliage of the arrowhead plant will add a jungly note to a foliage display in a bright or medium-light room.

ARROWHEAD PLANT

Light

Place in a bright light and turn frequently as it tends to lean toward the light in a short span of time. The thin leaves will not appreciate an overly bright light, as they may sunburn.

Bright indirect/Medium

Watering

Allow the top of the potting soil to dry out to the touch between waterings from Spring to late Fall; reduce watering slightly in Winter. Keep evenly moist. To increase humidity, set on a tray of wet pebbles. If humidity level is too low or plant gets too dry, the leaf edges and tips will turn brown.

Feeding

Feed every 2 weeks during the growing season with a balanced houseplant fertilizer, such as Espoma Organic Indoor Houseplant Food.

Planting & Care

Grow with Black Gold® All Purpose soil. It will thrive in a bright spot out of direct sun. Prune every year in Spring to keep it compact and bushy.

Size

Until it begins to vine, the plant is only 6-18" tall. Once it starts vining, it could reach up to 3 feet. They can be trained to grow up a mossy pole or trellis or can be trimmed to keep it smaller.

Flower

They may develop a small white spadix or small spike of flowers surrounded by a white spathe or sheathing bract, but rarely in the home.
